CLAN MACFIE PROCLAMATION

CONVENING THE EIGHTH PARLIAMENT
OF CLAN MACFIE

IN pursuance of the power and authority vested in me, I, Alexander Carpendale McPhie, of Townsville in the State of Queensland, Australia, Ceann-Cath and Commander of Clan Macfie, do hereby proclaim that the Eighth Parliament of Clan Macfie, for the dispatch of Clan business, shall commence and be held on Wednesday, the fifth day of September 2001 at 10:00 a.m. in the Royal Hotel, Oban, Scotland, to continue in the said Hotel as programmed during the ensuing three days, and members of the said Clan Macfie as able, are hereby required to give their attendance at the said time and place accordingly.

GIVEN under my hand and seal at 10 Havana Street, Townsville this twenty seventh day of March two thousand and one.

A. C. (Sandy) McPhie Ceann Cath, Commander of Clan Macfie

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

The Clan Macfie Parliament to be held in Scotland in September this year will see our Clan Society represented by some 10 Aussies so our banner will fly high. Marilyn and I look forward to catching up with other Macfies from around the world and renewing friendships made at earlier gatherings.

Of course two of the Aussies going are Sandy McPhie, our Clan Commander and Helen .

A Clan without a hereditary Chief may be headed by a Commander during the vacancy in the Chieftainship and in September, 1989, the Lord Lyon in Edinburgh appointed Sandy as Caenn-Cath (Clan Commander) of the Clan Macfie and it is Sandy who has convened this forthcoming Clan Parliament.

The Highland Games in Bundanoon last April were yet another great success with over 20,000 attending. Our Clan was well represented by ACT Vice President Glen McPhee with Glenda and NSW Vice President Geoff McPhee with Ruth. who manned a tent giving those who made enquiries help with matters Macfie.

Society Vice President Peter McPhee and Bernie McPhee were at the Ringwood Highland Games over Easter where they too had a tent to promote the Macfie Clan.

Peter also arranged a "A true Scottish Luncheon" on Macfie Day, 27th May, at the Mitcham RSL in Victoria to honour the fact that the Caenn-Cath of Clan Macfie is an Aussie viz, Sandy McPhie. These activities are just so important in furthering our Clan and Society and so thank you to all those who helped make these days a success.

Thank very much to those members who have made donations to our Society this year as your donations help so much in allowing us to fulfil our Society's roles.

As always, let's take care of each other,
Brian McPhee

CLAN GATHERING

From Iain and Fiona McFie, Clan Gathering Coordinators

We are now in the final planning stage of the quadrennial Gathering. However, we are still awaiting replies from a large number of Clanfolk who have indicated an interest in attending the Gathering. I, therefore, respectfully ask that those who are definitely attending complete and send to the Coordinators questionnaire and deposit.

Please note that we have to inform the Hotel by the middle of July how many rooms we will require. The Hotel deposit is required now and the full payment by mid July.

The Foot and Mouth epidemic is almost completely eradicated. There is a small area in the Borders where there is still a hold on movement. While there is the possibility of some isolated cases surfacing, the Government's Chief Veterinary Officer hopes to declare Scotland a Foot and Mouth free area.

Please confirm your attendance as soon as possible.

Our apologies to those who have already replied.

Ancestor hunting is not easy and the chances of you tracking your family back centuries are few and far between. Most people do well to get back to 1855, the year that compulsory population registers began in Scotland.

Ordinary people rarely feature in the records; kings and nobles, that's another matter. Even the spelling of names is a problem. If you stick to the one spelling of your name, for instance, then you're in big trouble. There has been no consistency down this path, as the records were written by clerks who spelled the names as they were pronounced.

In the 17th century you will quite often find the same name spelled differently on the same document. Spellings changed dramatically over time, which can confuse people to no end. Be prepared to find your name spelt quite differently from what you are used to.

The eccentricities and errors of clerks are not the only issues to be looked at either. Some families consciously changed their surname. Occasionally, this was for political reasons. It was wiser in parts of Scotland 200 years ago not to have an Irish surname so O'Malley became Malley. The old patronymics (Johnson, Jackson etc) were declining anyway. If you were called Ritcheson or Christieson in 1600, it was probably Ritchie or Christle by 1700. The name Ewing started as Hewingson 300 years ago.

All of this is assuming that records exist at all, as many people did not get recorded. By 1855 church records were a bit of a mess. A charge had been levied from 1780 onwards to register births etc. As a result many families just did not bother.

Also the disruption of the church in 1843 meant that huge numbers of people were no longer going to be recorded in the existing records. The Free Churches compiled registers, but they were a bit erratic, at least in the beginning. Also records thinned out as papers were thrown away. Lawyers were the worst for this. Another difficulty is that the session clerks who kept the registers were usually school-masters, and when they got a job elsewhere, they often took the records with them. This created numerous gaps.

Then there was the problem of thatched cottages. Mice eating the documents? Damp making the ink run? No, it was that thatched cottages where teachers lived had a terrible habit of catching on fire. Despite their faults, parish registers remain the best source of information up to 1855, and civil registers after then, but they don't really cater for people moving about.

People always want to know if their ancestors have been involved in great events such as battles and natural disasters, but this is actually hard information to find. Despite Scotland's long history of fighting, and a countryside littered with battlefields, few records of wars are ever detailed. Usually, only the losers get a mention - such as the prisoners of the 1745 Battle of Culloden for instance. Other great upheavals leave even fainter traces - with the exception, it seems, of outbreaks of disease.

A Mr Victor Vine-Hall has a book out as to where to look up records in regard to 'Family Tree Research'. This book can be obtained at most Libraries. Also another good book in this regard is the 'Genealogical Services Directory'; this book is updated every 12 months and can be obtained from;

Scotland Register of Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths

In 1552 the general provincial council of Scotland ordered that each parish should keep a Register which should record Baptisms and Marriages, but this was observed by only a few parishes until the 1800s.

In 1616 the newly formed Church of Scotland issued an edict that every member church should keep a record of Baptisms, Marriages, and Deaths, but only a few parishes took any action in this regard. In fact only 21 parishes kept registers before 1700 and 35 did not start registers until 1801. Very few of the registers of Scotland have been printed and published or even transcribed into manuscript.

A great photograph of an old Scot.

St Paul Church

The church of St. Paul is an edifice of stone in the Norman style, consisting of chancel, nave, aisle and a western belfry containing 2 bells: There is a memorial window (erected by his sister, Mary Embleton) to Sidney Howey, who with his wife and six children, was drowned off Sydney Heads in June 1838; another, erected by the Rev. F.R. Simpson, a former incumbent, to his wife and children, and a third in the chancel, erected by J.R. Johnson esq. M.A. of North Sunderland, to the memory of his father: The three west windows, in memory of the Rev. A-M. MacPhee M.A. vicar 1890-1902, were presented in 1924 by his widow: there is also a brass tablet to the Rev. Evan Hughes, incumbent 1886-90, who died 27 Oct. 1890: a new organ was provided in 1921

The register dates from the year 1834. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £395, with house, in the gift of Lord Crewe's trustees, and held since 1912 by the Rev. Frederick Stone M.A. of Oxford University. [Kelly's Northumberland Directory (1925), page 495.1 (Sent in by Trevor Phee)

Townships

NORTH SUNDERLAND is a township, parish and large village on the east coast, 8 miles south-east from Belford. North Sunderland was formed into an ecclesiastical parish from Bamburgh in 1833, and includes the townships of North Sunderland, Fleetharn and Elford, in the Berwick-upon-Tweed division of the county, Bamburgh ward and petty sessional division, union of Belford, county court district of Berwickon-Tweed, rural deanery of Bamburgh, archdeaconry of Lindisfarne and diocese of Newcastle. EXCELLENCE RECOGNITION FOR "CLAN CHATTER"

In their 2001 International Newsletter Contest the Ellen Payne Odom Genealogy Library in Maultrie, Georgia, U.S.A., and The Family Tree, have awarded an "Honourable Mention for Overall Excellence" for a Scottish Clan Magazine to "Clan Chatter" the quarterly newsletter of the MacDuffee/Macfie Clan Society of America Inc.. Congratulations to Editor Bruce J. MacDuffee of Oceanside, CA., and all his willing helpers. Well Done! This recognition of one of our Clan Macfie Society magazines is most welcome for all nine Societies produce creditable publications and have done so for some time, in some cases under a succession of editors. In the case of this award, the "Clan Chatter" team and the MacDuffee/Macfies have received an impressive award certificate dated 1st June 2001 and signed by Melody Stinson Jenkins, Library Director and Beth Gay DCTJ, FSA Scot, Family Tree Editor.

THE UNIVERSITY OF THE HIGHLANDS AND ISLANDS (UHI)

The University of the Highlands and Islands (UHI) serves a population of around half a million in a geographical area accounting for half of Scotland or one fifth of the UK. The university, which received its first funding in 1996, to-day links thirteen colleges and their associated learning centres from the Shetlands down to Argyll and has created some twenty new degree courses. It is contributing to the turnaround in the Highlands and Islands population trend of declining populations over the past twelve decades. Amongst others, UHI has established a Centre for Mountain Studies at Perth College - the first of its kind in Britain - and a postgraduate course, an MA Archaeological Practice, at Orkney College where fieldwork on world class archaeological sites can be conducted on site in the Shetlands and Caithness.

Penny Davis has commenced a Newsletter on behalf of the UHI Development Trust and can be contacted at <info@co.uhi.ac.uk> or care of the UHI Executive Office, Caledonia House, 63 Academy Street, Inverness, IV1 1BB, Scotland. She will be delighted to hear from anyone interested in, or wishing to support the UHI. The University website can be found at <www.friends.uhi.ac.uk>.

CLAN MACFIE SOCIETY IN IRELAND CLOSES DOWN

The Clan Macfie Society (Ireland) was recognised by the Clan Commander in November 1998 as being a member Clan Society of Clan Macfie. The group, however, did not prosper despite energetic genealogical work carried on by its Chairman, David Morgan of Solihull, England. A change of name to The MacDhubhthaigh Society did not strengthen the Society's operation. In April this year, the Clan Commander formally withdrew his recognition of the Clan Macfie Society (Ireland) as being a member Clan Society of Clan Macfie and indicated he was not prepared to extend such recognition to The MacDhubhthaigh Society. Members of the Society/s are free to seek membership of our other Clan Societies should they so wish.

- ◆ Changing of the Guard in New Zealand. President James McPhee did not stand for re-election at the recent AGM of the McPhee Clan Society of New Zealand. After five years in the chair he felt it was time for a change, and for wife Mary too, after three years as editor of the Society newsletter. Both have demanding business commitments which influenced their decision, but both will remain active members of the Society. Incoming President is long term member of the Society, Eric Wadsworth of 37 William Street, Petone, just outside Wellington (email: <ericar@paradise.net.nz>). The Clan Society, incidentally, has decided to hold all future Annual General Meetings to coincide as nearly as possible with Clan Macfie Day.....which we all know is 27th May, don't we?
- ◆ Death of the Duke of Argyll. Clan members will be saddened to learn of the death earlier this year of the Duke of Argyll. Aged 63, he died unexpectedly following heart surgery. A successful businessman and distinguished Clan Chief for over thirty years, he will be sadly missed. Many Clan Macfie members will have traced their family trees back to Argyll and the Estates owned by the Duke's forebears.
- ◆ Mary Grace Cathey of Greenville, SC, U.S.A., is well again after serious health problems earlier in the year.
- ◆ LtGen Carl Homer Cathey, United States Air Force, died of a heart attack late last year, aged 69. A West Point graduate, General Cathey flew operationally during the Vietnam war before moving on to a succession of staff appointments. He is survived by his wife, Marcia, a son, two daughters and four grandchildren.
- ◆ A special occasion deserves another mention - Although recorded in our last Clan News, congratulations and good wishes go again to Don and Helen McPhie of Scarborough, ONT, Canada, on the occasion of their 50th Wedding Anniversary on the 14th July.
- ◆ The Chief of Naval Staff in New Zealand is Rear Admiral Peter McHaffie and undoubtedly one with his heart in the right place. He keeps his own boat in a Wellington Marina - the boat's name is, naturally, "Colonsay".
- ◆ A new address for Armiger Wayne Cathey and wife Wendy - they are now at 1234 Challen Avenue, Jacksonville, FL 32205, U.S.A.
- ◆ Sir Charles Gavan Duffy was Premier of Victoria, in Australia during 1871 and 72. Born in Monaghan, Ireland, in 1816, he was admitted to the Bar in Ireland in 1839. He founded the "Nation" newspaper which he hoped would foster a sense of national unity and educate the Irish people towards achieving their freedom. For a time he was a member of the House of Commons for New Ross. Following political troubles in Ireland, Duffy migrated to Australia in 1855. He became involved in politics and literary life in Melbourne and helped found the "Advocate" newspaper there. He retired to Nice in France where he wrote several historical works and was a regular contributor to the London Times and Dublin periodicals and newspapers. Many of his Australian papers are held by the La Trobe University in Melbourne.
- ◆ www and Internet Info
 - Iain McHaffie of Toronto, Editor of the Canada Clan Society's magazine "The Torch" has a new email address, now <mchaffie@sympatico.co>
 - The Clan Secretariat's email address has been changed to <macfie@austarnet.com.au>
 - James and Mary McPhee in New Zealand have a new email address following their move to 66 Kensington Ave., Rangiora. It is <james.mcphee@connexionz.co.nz>
 - Do You Read Corncrake? "Corncrake" is the fortnightly Colonsay Newsletter edited by Kevin Byrne. It always carries an interesting update on doings on Colonsay and Oronsay and can be found on the Colonsay Homepage at <http://www.colonsay.org.uk> or directly on <http://www.colonsay.org.uk/corncrake/cornframe.html>
 - Ancestor Search. Visit the Research Registry for over 100,000 research profiles at <www.ancestry.com/share/research/main.htm> or try "Search the Ancestry World Tree" at <www.ancestry.com/search/rectype/usersub/worldfree/main.htm> for the largest "free" database of family files available on internet.

Research in the United States. Max G. Mahaffee of Charleston, SC, provided the following helpful information in a recent copy of "Newsbeat" the magazine of the MacFie Clan Society of North America. "If you have any idea of where the ship bringing your ancestor landed (the particular U.S. port) or the foreign port from which the ship came, then some of the ship sites might help. An example of the many sites on the internet which provide ship info is <http://www.execpc.com/~haroldr/shiplist.htm>. Of course Uncle Sam has information available also. The relevant site at the National Archives and Records Administration is at <http://www.nara.gov/genealogy/immigration/immigrat.html>. As they note, however, 'Until January 1, 1820, the U.S. Federal Government did not require captains or masters of vessels to present a passenger list to U.S. Officials. Thus, as a general rule, NARA does not have passenger lists of vessels arriving before January 1, 1820.' Exceptions are the ports of Philadelphia and New Orleans, but those only date back to 1800. Also, there is a volunteer site, called the Immigrant Ships Transcribers Guild is located at <http://istg.rootseb.com>. Once you find where they landed, a relatively new site: <http://www.migrations.org> may help you find the next place where your family moved to in the United States. We were, and are, a mobile society, which is a problem in locating your kin. Changes in the name of districts and counties in a particular state add to the intricacies of the never ending search for kin. Changes in the spelling of your surname add to the difficulties."

Scottish Convicts.

There were 8,207 Scottish convicts among nearly 150,000 convicts transported to Australia. Interestingly enough only 4.8 per cent of male convicts were Scottish, and 9.3 per cent were female. A relatively large number of Scottish convicts were transported for larceny (burglary and break and entering) committed in or around Glasgow and Edinburgh. Often, also, they were multiple offenders. John Flynn was goaled for theft, he escaped, committed another theft while free, and was transported to Van Diemen's Land in 1843. Robert Gilchrist was convicted in January 1834 in Glasgow for housebreaking with aggravation and transported to NSW for seven years. The famous Andrew Thompson was convicted of burglary at Jedburgh in 1790 and transported for fourteen years. William Highat was sentenced to fourteen years for sheep stealing in Ayshire in 1816. James Ried was a young apprentice who absconded, and was later reported to have been an old offender and escapee. Thomas McGovan was a larcenous soldier from the 88th Regiment who was handed over for trial to the civil courts for sentencing: he and two others were transported for stealing 3 pounds 10 shillings at a tollgate.

Elizabeth McGuire, had been convicted over twenty times for drunkenness. A very high proportion of the Scottish women convicts were prostitutes, many had been on the streets a long time, up to fifteen years in some cases. Estimates for later in the nineteenth century place the number of Glasgow street-walkers at six to seven thousand. The two best known Scottish convicts in the earlier years were Thomas Watling, 'the limner of Dumfries', transported for forgery. The second, was Andrew Thompson who died in 1810 a wealthy man, the pall-bearers at his funeral were Cox, Lord, Amdell and Gregory Blaxland. Mrs McLeod of Skye was transported in the 1810's for burning down a neighbor's house in a fit of jealousy.

Even more interesting were two batches of Scottish political prisoners sent out in 1793 to 1795 and 1820. The so-called 'Scottish Martyrs' of 1792 are far better known than the radicals of 1820. Their case inspired Robert Burns's patriotic effusion 'Scots Wha Hae'. The martyrs numbered five, strictly speaking: Thomas Muir, an advocate; Thomas Fyshe Palmer, a Unitarian cleric; Maurice Margarot, a wine merchant; Joseph Gerrald, a planter - barrister; and William Skirving, a tutor. A sixth man, a weaver called George Mealmaker, was sent out in 1800 and is sometimes included among the Scottish Martyrs because he was connected with their sedition in 1792. In fact, only two of the martyrs, Muir and Skirving, were Scottish, or three if we count Mealmaker. Their cases were notorious, their exile was famous, and Muir's escape, subsequent adventures and death were bizarre and more than sensational.

The ' Scottish Radicals' transported in 1820 were very different, lacking the social status of the martyrs, they were hardly known at all, yet made a far greater contribution to New South Wales. Nineteen were transported as a result of a fray at Boonnymuir near Stirling on 5th April 1820. Two others, Baird and Hardie, were executed. James Clelland, one of the radicals, had been saved from execution. John Anderson was from 1823 to his death in 1858 at the age of sixty-five, schoolmaster at the Presbyterian school held in the little old church at Ebenezer on the Hawkesbury. Another Thomas McCulloch prospered from stocking-maker to convict to publican to landowner. John McMillan exploited his trade of blacksmith and gradually diversifying into ship work, tool making and scale-beam making. (Thanks to Cruachan - Clan Campbell)

EBENEZER CHURCH — 1809
"Hitherto hath the Lord helped us"

Rev George Macfie was at Ebenezer Church from 1842 to 1867,

The Presbyterian Church at Ebenezer is situated on a bend of the Hawkesbury River near Windsor NSW. Its parishioners claim that it is probably the oldest church in Australia.

In 1802 a small group of settlers from Scotland arrived in the sailing ship Coramandel and selected sites along the banks of the Hawkesbury for their new homes. Their task of building cottages and carving a living from the wilderness was formidable enough but somehow they found time to erect a stone church. It was completed in 1809 at a cost in terms of present day currency of $800 (1987). From time to time the peace of the tiny Scottish community was shattered by unfriendly natives raiding bushrangers and devastating floods. When the big flood came in 1867 it swept away the wedding breakfast that had been arranged for a minister's daughter in the manse. She was Mary Sinclair Macfie and the groom W T Poole. On that occasions the bride and groom climbed out of the attic window and embarked on their honeymoon by boat.

In those early days funeral processions sailed along the Hawkesbury with the leading boat manned by rowers using muffled oars, towing the boat containing the coffin and the mourning craft following.

BLAST FROM THE PAST

The article is a reprint from Newsbulletin No 47

March 1987.

THE REV M D GEORGE MACFIE MINISTER AT PORTLAND HEAD & PITT TOWN NSW.

In our Macfie Clan Society Newsbulletin No 16 (Nov 77) we gave a fairly comprehensive account of the Rev. Geo Macfie's time at Ebenezer Church on the Hawkesbury River, west of Sydney. He was called there in 1842 aged 53 and stayed for 25 years, rendering great service to his parishioners.

In 1987, Goodwin Macfie Poole (Q86-565) of Brisbane, a descendant of the Rev. Geo. provided the following information about his ancestor's family.

My (Goodwin) connection with "Macfie" is that my paternal grandfather's mother was Mary Sinclair Macfie, the 2nd child and 2nd daughter of the Rev. George Macfie and Eliza Hutcheson. It is, I admit, a bit remote. My father's christian names are "George Macfie" and those same names are my 2nd and 3rd. My son is "William Alexander Macfie".

For the records of the Macfies in Australia, I (Goodwin) can give you this information regarding the Rev. George Macfie:

BORN: The Barony, Glasgow, 3/10/1789.
Son of Alexander Macfie and Mary Sinclair (eldest child).

UNIVERSITY OF GLASGOW: "Matriculated" but in view of the age, I guess this to be graduated, 1808. Taught for some years- don't know what or where or to whom..

1ST PRESBYTERY: Brechin licensed 1828. Assistant at Yetholive for short time. Ordained in the Presbytery of Northumberland 2/7/1828 and was minister to the Church at Birdhop Craig - where he was the 9th minister, and first of the New Kirk. Remained there until 11/6/1837.

MARRIAGE: April 1833 to Eliza, youngest daughter of John Hutcheson and Susannah, of Fulliar, Renfew. (He was then 44 y.o. and she 29). Eliza Macfie died 22/6/1899 at Linden (near Woodford) aged 95.

CAME TO NSW: As one of a party of 8 ministers and 4 probationers through the influence of Dr. Dunmore Lang. Arrived in Sydney per ship "Portland" 3/12/1837. (Aged 48). Went to Penrith for about 6 months. Then to Moronga, Bergalia, (down near Nowra) in 1838 - taking in Bega and all surrounding districts. There was no church building and he travelled from station to station, preaching, marrying, baptising and holding commemorative services for the dead.

In 1842 (aged 53) he was called to Portland Head and Pitt Town where he was inducted to Ebenezer Church - but still continuing to visit Bergalia annually (riding from Pitt Town on a packhorse) as there was no other minister. He kept this up at least until 1859 (age 70) and possibly later. He retired from Ebenezer in 1867 (after the big flood) leaving his successor, The Rev. David Moore, in charge of the Parish.

CHILDREN:

Susannah Smith - born Birdhop Craig 26/3/1834; Married 6/8/1859,, to George Fredrich Macdonald of Glenmore, Rothbury, NSW. (Some of their descendants included John Macdonald near Gladstone). Died Glernnore 20/2/1930(85Y.llm.)

- Mary Sinclair - born Birdhop Craig 15/4/1837 - married /6/1867 at Pitt Town, W.T. Poole. Died, Sydney 13/10/1903.
- Magdalene Allen - born 21/8/1839 at Bergalia. Died Sydney 19/4/1920 (80 y).
- Catherine- born 21/4/1841 at Bergalia. Died Sydney 14/7/1915 (74y)
- George Alexander- born Pitt Town 20/5/1843, Died Sydney 9/3/1886
- John Hutcheson-born Pitt Town 21/3/1847, Married 4/4/1877, Emma eldest daughter of John
- McCulloch of Deniliquin. Died 23/11/1918 (Emma died 1925).

Rev Geo Macfie died. Kegworth Petersham 17/121869 aged 80. Buried – Balmain Cemetery. There is a memorial to him, Eliza Hutcheson (his wife) and to Alexander Macfie at Ebenezer. I am not sure who this 'Alexander' is – either a son who died in infancy and is not recorded elsewhere or 'George Alexander' a son who died at about 13 years.

Clan Macfie Society of Australia Financial Statement.

The Income and Expenditure Account and the Balance Sheet for the year ended 31st December 2000 are available from the President on request.

Congratulations to John and Robyn Hancox (nee Macfie)

Robyn and John were Married on: 3 June 2000. It had been a beautiful sunny autumn day turning into a delicious crisp, clear night.

Place: The wedding was held at 5.00pm on the balcony of The Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron, Kirribilli wherein we are members.

Groom: A lifetime sailor, born in Queensland, John and I met whilst sailing and it has been our shared passion since.

Honeymoon: We own a 36' Catalina yacht "Magnificat" built in the USA and after our wedding sailed north to the Whitsundays, spending six months cruising and returning leisurely. A story in itself!. As we are not in the first bloom of youth, we were married to the strains of a violin quartet playing Vivaldi's Four Seasons - Autumn.

Guests included fellow sailors, landlubbers and a few family members including the bride's mother, sister and brother-in-law and the groom's three adult married children who all decreed it to be a wonderful night.

Curse of Scotland

The nine of diamonds playing card is often referred to as the "Curse of Scotland.

There are a number of reasons for this connection.

- It was the playing card used by Sir

John Dairymple, the Earl of Stair, to cryptically authorise the Glencoe Massacre.

- Certainly there is a resemblance between the nine of diamonds and his coat of arms.
- The Duke of Cumberland is supposed to scribbled the order for 'no quarter' to be given after the battle of Culloden on the nine of diamonds playing card.
- It has also been suggested that it is a misreading of the "Corse of Scotland" i.e. the "Cross of Scotland" or St Andrew's Saltire. There is a resemblance between the pattern of the nine of diamonds and the Saltire.
- Nine diamonds were at one time stolen from the crown of Scotland and a tax was levied on the Scottish people to pay for them - the tax got the nickname "The Curse of Scotland".

The first two explanations are the ones most commonly given.

General Clan Society News

From the Desk of the Clan Commander Sandy McPhee March 2001

STOP PRESS Word has just come through that we have a new Clan Armiger. Congratulations to Des Duffy Esq., of Welling, outside London. Arms granted with effect 3rd November last year - more details next Clan News.

Clan Treasurer Appointed. The Clan Commander announced the appointment of Mr. Peter McPhee of 7 Shewsbury Road, Nunawading, (in Melbourne) Victoria 3131, Australia, as Clan Treasurer at the beginning of this year. Following the resignation of Treasurer, Nevell McPhee, formerly of Toowoomba, then Caloundra, Q. some years ago, the post of Clan Treasurer had been filled on a temporary basis by Lorraine McPhee of Toowoomba, Q. Australia, and by the Clan Commander. Peter, aged 54, conducts his own business as a Property Valuer, Auctioneer and Real Estate Agent. He is a former National President of the JCs in Australia and has been Vice-President of The Macfie Clan Society of Australia since 1994.

Clan Parliament Genealogy Committee. Russell and Jane Bailey of Wilmington, SC, USA have reluctantly resigned as joint chairmen of the Clan Parliament Genealogy Committee due to health problems. The appointment of a new chairman will probably be left in abeyance until Clan Parliament in September.

Clan Macfie and Siol Alpin. One Kenneth McAlpine of California is seeking to have Clan MacAlpine recognised as an "active" Clan. The Clan's history goes back over twelve hundred years to King Kenneth MacAlpine and the Siol Alpin group of Clans in Scotland of which one was Clan Macfie. We are supporting Kenneth in this. His Clan Society homepage can be found at <www.macalpineclan.com>

NEW LORD LYON APPOINTED

A new Lord Lyon King of Arms for Scotland has been appointed to succeed Sir Malcolm Innes of Edinburgh who retired recently at his own request after twenty years in office. Mr. Robin Blair, 61, a partner in the firm Dundas and Wilson, solicitors, was appointed as the new Lyon in early February by Her Majesty the Queen. The Lord Lyon office dates back to 1318 when Robert the Bruce inaugurated a King of Arms. No other Herald in Europe has such jurisdiction and rank. In this instance, the appointment came from 57 applicants following the first ever advertising of the post.

The ULDB Project

In January, the Clan Secretariat distributed to all Clan Societies brief information on NASA's scientific Ultra Long Duration Balloon (ULDB) flight which was due then to lift off from Alice Springs in the centre of Australia and circle the globe at around 35 km. or 115,000 ft. in 12 to 20 days. The flight was to be followed by a second one from New Zealand at the end of the year at the same altitude and making numerous circuits of the earth over 100 days. Our big interest was in Clan member Henry Cathey being the Balloon Vehicle Manager for the project and a small piece of Macfie tartan being aboard.

The best laid plans do not always come to fruition, however. With adverse weather conditions across Australia for the early part of the year, lift-off was delayed until late February but it quickly met difficulties and was grounded an hour later. A second flight early this month saw the balloon reach a height of 107,000 ft. and stay aloft for 24 hours before malfunctions after passing over large thunderstorm cells caused it's ditching just half a mile from the western coast of Australia. No doubt, Henry and Co., will rethink the project and try again in a month or two. For the scientific minded, the ULDB project was a feature article in the November 1999 issue of "Scientific American". Henry is pictured at right, in Alice Springs, with the piece of Macfie tartan sent aloft.

15th CENTURY CLAYMORE

Several years ago farmer Alan Cameron of the Black Isle near Inverness pulled a rusty old piece of iron from a field he was clearing. Not "Excalibar" it was, however, a most significant find and duly identified by the National Museum of Scotland experts as being a 15th Century Highland Claymore. The first such claymore to come out of the ground, it is one of only thirty weapons of that era known to exist to-day. A long handled and fearsome arm of over five feet in length, it would have been worn over a Highlander's shoulder when not in use. Declared as treasure trove, the find brought a reward for Mr. Cameron.
